Sexsmith Soon To Have 2 Privately Owned Planes

Stanley Warren Now Has Private License—Tells Correspondent How He Got It

Sexsmith has always been mentioned as the town with the second elevator, not forgetting the three annexes, making a total capacity of approximately 100 elevators. However, now that it may be well known for having two privately owned airplanes, the pioneer in this line, Jack Neve, and the new recruit, Stanley Warren.

Stan arrived back from Edmonton a few days ago, where he attended the Edmonton and Northern Aero Club. He has just completed his course and is in possession of his private flying license, after having passed his examinations and tests successfully.

After completing 100 hours of solo flight, which he expects to do this summer, he will receive his commercial license.

His machine, which is being built under the supervision of Pilot Neve, is just about completed and will be inspected by the official inspector without the slightest delay. When the finishing touches will be added and same will be ready about August 1.

In conversation with Mr. Warren, he stated that they received lectures from some of the noted fliers, also from manufacturers of airplanes, and this information forms the basis of the examination. They were also the practical work and the Moth machine, equipped with a dual control, is used for this purpose.

With his instructor and put through his paces. When the inspector sees that the pupil grasps the fundamentals of flying he (the pupil) is allowed to go solo. This is done for a number of days, the instructor going up the first flight with the pupil to see that he has not forgotten what he learned the day before. The pupil is then told to go aloft alone and to do certain maneuvers. After the pupil is able to handle the machine to the satisfaction of the instructor, he is passed, providing his written examination is O.K.

Now, you young fellows, you know what you have to do to become an aviator.

NEWS FROM ASPEN GLEN CAMP

Lady Banker From Kansas Staying In Camp Cabin

Says Pioneers Of Kansas Had Much More To Contend With Than Peace River People Have

FAIRBANKS, June 29.—From Arizona, Kansas, the edge of the dust-bowl and where life is oppressively hot, has arrived Mrs. Bertha S. Sumpter, accompanied by Miss Eleanor June Howard.

Devoted upon Mrs. Sumpter are the many interests had by her husband, the late F. M. Sumpter, who was a pioneer of that place. Besides being an ordained minister in the Society of Friends (Quaker Church), she is president of Farmers and Merchants Bank and directs the activities of her farms.

As in the other three trips to Alberta during the last twelve years, Mrs. Sumpter is spending a few weeks in an Aspen Glen cabin.

It seems to her that the pioneers of Kansas had much more to contend with and much less in natural resources to do with than have the Peace River settlers.

Two months' hardships should work a complete cure.

Mrs. Percy Parks returned on Tuesday's train from a visit to Percy.

Mr. W. Parks and Mr. Chas. Parks were also in Grande Prairie visiting Percy.

Hey! Mrs. Hood, is the coffee ready?

PRESTVILLE NEWS

SCHOOL PICNIC ENJOYED

PRESTVILLE, June 29.—The annual Prestville school picnic was held down at the river last Friday.

It was a very successful picnic and a goodly crowd was present. A fine line of foot races, swimming races and pillow fights was run through. Tables were spread for the lunch on the grass and young and old partook of the fine array of food.

Free candies, nuts, ice cream and lemonade were provided. By the contented looks on children's and grown-up faces we judge that all enjoyed themselves to their fullest capacity. Among those lending their support in order to make the day a success we noticed Mr. Atkinson of Wainham, the trustees, the teachers and Mr. V. Durda (the Mayor).

The whole district was most pleased to hear that Mr. Percy Parks is coming along fine after an operation in the Grande Prairie Municipal Hospital. Here's luck Percy. Hope to see you soon.

Mr. Jack Stevens left on Friday's train for Edmonton, where he plans to visit his sister, Mrs. English, who arrived in Montreal on June 25.

It seems to her that the pioneers of Kansas had much more to contend with and much less in natural resources to do with than have the Peace River settlers.

Two months' hardships should work a complete cure.

ALONG THE WAPITI

PHENOMENAL GROWTH

ALONG THE WAPITI, June 30.—It has rained fairly steadily here since last Friday. Garden stuff still showing fine growth. Phenomenal growth of meadow and hay lands. Crops never looked better.

YOUNGSTERS HAVE GOOD TIME
The school sports held last Friday were held under considerable difficulty on account of the extraordinary heavy rain, which literally soaked everybody. However, the youngsters had an enjoyable time notwithstanding.

ATTENDANCE SURPRISES
The dance in the evening was a surprise, as hardly anybody was expected, but by 10:30 everything was going fine, with a very good crowd in attendance. By midnight the school was crowded and a high old time was held till 4 a.m. After supper the quilt was raffled, and the dance continued.

The Fergusson orchestra supplied the music. Raymond Fergusson, pianist, Jimmy Fergusson, violinist, and the violin—and they can sure play. Their square dance music was much enjoyed by every dancer. Let's have them again.

NOTES OF DANCE
Leo Fergusson was there enjoying himself, but we could not get him to play.

Thos. Aherm helped in the booth till the last dog was hung, walking home at 4 a.m.

TEACHER LEAVES; BRIDE-ELECT
Miss Jessie Brakine left on Tuesday's train for Minneapolis, Minnesota, where she will be married to Norman Rennie.

Jessie was born in Alberta and has spent most of her life in this district. Her father was killed in action overseas. For the past five years she taught school at Vallonia, Mountain Trail, and Millarston, making a marked success of it.

All her many friends here, including Rev. John Macdonald, were present in her future life and in her new home. We also extend our heartfelt congratulations to the bride and groom.

And may Jessie never forget this Canada of hers nor her old home district. Along the Wapiti.

"Comparative Food Values"
The following is a list of comparative food values:

Three hard-boiled eggs. A cocktail is equal to three slices of beef. A slice of beef is equal to a plate of ham and eggs.

We want to eat three hard-boiled eggs? No one. So take a cocktail. Who cares for ham and eggs in a hot weather? No one. So take a bottle of cold beer, etc., etc.

J. Murray is still at the University Hospital, Edmonton. We hope everything turns out satisfactorily.

"Bert" Osborne's party leaves for Jasper on Monday. I surely would like to take that trip.

Miss Irene Murray was home on a visit last week. Irene did remarkably well in her school work this year, and was a very good subject on account of her excellent work, being one of the highest amongst 88 pupils. She lives just above the Wapiti. Enough said.

COMMEMORATE BIRTHDAY
One of the pleasantest Sundays we have had in the past few years was last Sunday at Geo. Verner's place, the occasion being a small celebration commemorating his birthday. The original one being like my own many, many years ago. The cake was more than plentiful, also the drinks—lemonade the favorite because of the heat, with coffee a close second.

Nearly everyone went swimming at George's beach in the afternoon. After another bunch of cake in the evening everyone went home, wishing George all sorts of good wishes.

Those who enjoyed the particular day were: Mr. and Mrs. Bain, Duncan Bain, George Bain, Miss Helen Bain, Miss Jessie Ellis, Mrs. Florence George, Miss May Carlson, J. C. Macdonald, Mrs. J. C. Macdonald, Bill Davies, Don White, Tom McKenzie.

RIO GRANDE NEWS

BEADLE-MCCRAE
A very pretty wedding took place on Tuesday, June 10, in the Rio Grande Anglican Church, at 11 a.m. when Miss Elsie Beadle, eldest daughter of Mr. Geo. Beadle of Leigh, was united in marriage to Mr. Clifford G. McCrae of Vermilion.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride looked lovely in all-white silk crepe, with veil held in place with orange blossoms, and train, carrying a bouquet of pale pink roses and fern.

The bridesmaid looked charming, too, dressed in pale pink, carrying with hat to match, and carrying a bouquet of pale pink carnations.

As they entered the church, very nicely played the wedding march.

Miss Christian Beadle acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Robert Martin supported the groom. Rev. S. Semple performed the marriage ceremony.

"HITTING THE SPOTS"

By DAVE LIVINGSTONE

SEATTLE, Wash., June 21.—It seems like a decade since the mosquitoes sang me a swan song in Tepee Valley. Here was the seedling and weeping about not being able to sell my tin cans to the Pitkins, and now here I am sitting at a hotel window overlooking Seattle harbor.

Intending to go out for a walk, if possible, I was nevertheless thankful to be chased out on train by the first rain Tepee Creek has received since May the fifth, although at least one prominent Grande Prairie citizen was a little critical about the crops being as good as the farmers' "very-bibbed" they were.

Leaving home with no definite goal I am as much surprised as anyone that I'm here. All being well, my footprints will be in the dirt of the road to home and to my harvest-time—but I'm no monkish saint, and I can't turn up in the next month, the month of June.

On the way out evidence of the spring flood around the smoky crossing was marked by newly repaired roadways and, stranded, drifted away high up on the banks. The rain was much heavier along that part of the line, some of the fields being inundated. That was visible again around Smith, where the train stopped for enough to take the depot from the north, as against indignation through getting or eating a lunch at that point.

Clocking the Mile Posts
Following just how fast we were flying through the capital was solved by checking the mile posts. From Mile 124 to Mile 97 was exactly one hour. Complete with traffic lights and bollards, the "Safety First" game is seen in progress at the school. Note the "pedestrian" on the left escorting children across the dangerous road while other youngsters with doll carriages, toy motors and scooters watch the traffic lights change.
